Gregg Wallace MasterChef Judge

how to make
Pre-heat the oven to 220°C and oil a baking tray. Use a small plate or saucer to cut 4 circles of pastry. Put the circles on the baking tray. Cut a deep circular groove (2cm) within the circumference of each round, but do not cut all the way through the pastry. Spread the pesto evenly within the inner circles formed by the grooves. Crumble the cheese over the pesto. Place the tomato slices on the cheese being careful not to go past the groove, as you want the edge to rise. Dip a finger in some olive oil and wipe it around the empty edge of the pastry until all the edge is coated. Sprinkle the chopped oregano and rosemary over the tarts and season with salt and pepper. Bake for 20 - 25 minutes.

ingredients
13oz ready-rolled puff pastry
3 and 1/2 oz goat's cheese sliced tomatoes (enough to cover the tarts) 4 tablespoons pesto
olive oil
1 tablespoon chopped oregano 1 tablespoon chopped rosemary salt and black pepper

you will also need
knife for chopping herbs chopping board
baking tray
oven
